

ISM's

By Devlin Murphy

Racism, sexism, all the useless ism's. It is very simple really. There is only one race, the human race. All the other yack, yack are distractions. It is the way the wealthy, greedy, power hungry moguls. Keep the rest of us in line. Keep us fighting and chasing our tails in useless drama. This is needed to keep us busy while they rape the earth of all of its life sustaining riches. So they can profit from it and us. "They" don't care if we can't breathe, eat the food, or drink the water, they are rich-they buy theirs.

Masters, serfs, slaves, and serfdoms; changed the names, games the same. "They" share just enough to keep us alive (50+% of us), not enough to thrive. Keep us dangling to survive and just in case we make it past that obstacle we throw in race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, anything that can divide or distract.

We have come a long way over the centuries but we have a long way to go. I believe the younger generations of today will no longer allow this to continue on as it has since the beginning of time. If there is anything good about technology is that people can connect and expose instantly. Free thinkers of today believe in all equality-race, gender, sexual preference, religion-all of it-you do you-it's a motto.

Wealthy isn't bad if you have a heart and mind and use it wisely-too few of those. People in politics matter-vote them in-vote them out...

Let your voice be heard...
